

LONDON THE CITADEL SUMMER IN LONDON

STUDY

APPLY THE CONCEPTS AND THEORIES USED IN CLASS DURING CO-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES IN THE CITY

Administered by The Citadel Department of English, Fine Arts, and Communications and FIE: Foundation for International Education, The Citadel Summer in London program is a six-credit, four-week session in which students take two out of three courses on offer.

Program participants take classes and live in the heart of London's Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea, a centrally located area close to many of the city's universities, libraries, museums, theaters, and famous tourist sites.

While enrolled in Major British Writers II: Romanticism to Present, students take part in a variety of activities, including attending a play at Shakespeare's Globe Theatre, taking a tour with a special backstage class demonstration at the Globe Theatre, examining the manuscript collections of the British Library, visiting the Lake District, and generally enjoying British culture.

Other co-curricular learning opportunities may include visits to the London Central Mosque, the Ismaili Centre (a Muslim religious, social, and cultural center), the British Museum, and Jack the Ripper tours or other "haunted" London walking tours. Independent trips to other countries are encouraged. In recent years, program participants have traveled to Scotland, Ireland, France, the Netherlands, Germany, Spain, Greece, and Italy over long weekends during the program.

COURSES

SPEND 4 UNFORGETTABLE WEEKS IN LONDON WITH FIE & THE CITADEL

BRING LITERATURE & CULTURE TO LIFE BY USING LONDON AS YOUR CLASSROOM

BOOST YOUR RESUME WITH AN INTERCULTURAL LEARNING EXPERIENCE ABROAD

CHOOSE TWO COURSES:

MAJOR BRITISH WRITERS II: ROMANTICISM TO PRESENT

In this course, we will survey the literature of Great Britain and its empire from the end of the eighteenth century to the present, drawing connections between literary and socio-historical issues. We will read a range of canonical and lesser known texts, with the aim of exploring how these texts have shaped and been shaped by aesthetic, cultural and political developments.

LITERARY MONSTERS IN BRITISH LITERATURE

This course will examine various incarnations of popular monsters from the English Renaissance to contemporary culture, considering how these villains and heroes change over time, are used to further certain cultural ideologies, and why certain kinds (vampires and Frankenstein's monster) remain popular throughout various periods while others (ghosts and zombies) fluctuate. The course will also explore various film adaptations. Texts include Dr. Faustus, Frankenstein, Dracula, The League of Extraordinary Gentlemen, Pride and Prejudice and Zombies, and others. Trips to places of literary and cultural significance related to "monsters" and/or featuring relevant material objects (The British Museum, The Globe, Jack the Ripper and other "haunted" London tours) will also supplement the class.

UNDERSTANDING CIVILIZATIONS: ISLAM AND THE WEST

The profound urgency to develop mutual understanding between the West and the Islamic World has been highlighted by a myriad of violent events over the last decades. On the assumption that ignorance is the enemy of peace, this course intends to explore the sources of conflict that have led towards the notion of a clash of civilizations.
